DFDia Selected to Design Las Vegas Law Offices of Glen J. Lerner

PHOENIX – Phoenix-based interior architecture firm DFDia has been selected by attorney Glen J. Lerner to design his 24,000-square-foot Las Vegas law offices located in Durango Village. The two-story building will be home to between 50 and 70 attorneys, legal professionals and support staff.

Under the guidance of Project Director Simone Schoen, DFDia will provide full-service interior design and architecture for the law firm.

Niki Possas, principal in charge and managing director of DFDia, says the interiors project is eagerly anticipated.

“We look forward to working on this project and are gratified to have been selected as Glen J. Lerner’s interiors firm of choice,” she says. “Having designed several law offices, DFDia is perfectly suited to undertake this project.”

Voted the #1 commercial interiors firm in the Valley by Ranking Arizona, DFDia boasts a staff of 25 fully qualified professionals specializing in the fields of interior design and architecture.
